KILLED IN WRECK AT MELROSE PARK

William Thomas, Age 64, Formerly of This County Meets Death
Suddenly.

MOVING TO ANDOVER, OHIO

Victim Moved From Rush County With Father Late Edwin Thomas, Several Years Ago.

William Thomas, age sixty-four years, formerly a resident of this county who removed from here to Madison county several years ago with his father, the late Edwin Thomas, was killed in a railroad wreck at Melrose Park, Ill., a small town ten miles from Chicago on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

The news of Mr. Thomas' death came in a telegram to Mrs. Laura Wilson, Anderson, a sister of the deceased, yesterday noon.

Details of the accident are meagre, but it is believed that he was killed in a freight wreck of the Chicago & Northwestern yesterday forenoon.

Mr. Thomas was moving from a farm near Huron, South Dakota, to a farm near Andover, O., and was enroute in a freight car with his household goods when the accident befel him. Relatives say that he left his home in South Dakota one week ago last Saturday, with his furniture. With him at the time of the accident were two sons, Layton, age 26, and Walter, age 19. Nothing has been heard of them.

In his immediate family Mr. Thomas is survived by his wife and two daughters, Misses Lena and Pearl who are in South Dakota at the old family home and the two sons named above.

The widow has been informed of the accident and is now enroute to Chicago to claim the body. She will take it on to Anderson and the funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilson in Anderson.

The victim of the wreck moved from this county several years ago with his father when the exodus of Rush county people to Madison county became a daily occurrence almost. Until two years ago he lived in the vicinity of Linwood, Madison county, when he sold a farm of eighty acres and went to South Dakota. Recently he traded the South Dakota farm for a tract of land near Andover, O.

BREAKS HIP BONE IN FALL

Injury to Mrs. May Lower May Prove Serious.

Mrs. May Lower, living four miles southwest of the city, sustained a broken hip bone this morning in a fall at her home. Mrs. Lower has been in ill health for some time and when she attempted to go from one room into another, lost her balance and fell. Mrs. Lower is fifty-six years old and because of her weakened condition the injury may prove serious.

MAY END TOMORROW.

Prospects this afternoon were that all the evidence in the case of Greeley and others against Hooten for $1,800, on a contract, would be in by tomorrow morning, and that the case might get to the jury tomorrow. The hearing has taken the time of circuit court since Monday morning. Other cases which have been on the calendar for these days have been postponed.

HEARING SET FOR FRIDAY

LeRoy Link and Edward Johnson
Will be Arraigned Then.

LeRoy Link and Edward Johnson, the two Glenwood boys arrested yesterday on a larceny charge, will have a hearing Friday morning at 9 o'clock before Judge Blair. They are said to be implicated with Irvin Stevens in several robberies. Stevens is in jail here but the other two boys were allowed to go with the understanding that they be in court Friday. Stevens was brought here after eluding the officers for several weeks. The police force of this city and Connersville failed to arrest him and he was finally brought here by a farmer.

LYDIA JONES IS DEAD AT 62 YEARS

Prominent Woman Living in Southwestern Part of County Suc-
cumbs After Year's Illness.

CASE SERIOUS ONLY 3 DAYS

Survived by Seven Daughters, Two Sons and Two Brothers—Funeral to be Tomorrow.

Mrs. Lydia Jones, aged sixty-two years, one of the prominent elderly women of Rush county died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Gahimer, two miles northeast of Blue Ridge, at twelve-twenty-five o'clock yesterday afternoon, from a complication of disease. She had been suffering for almost a year, but her condition was never considered dangerous until about three days ago, when she took to her bed. Her death will come as a great shock not only to her relatives, but to her many friends as well.

Deceased was a member of the United Brethren church, having united with the church of that denomination in Franklin county, and during her whole life she had always been an ardent worker for the cause that it stood for. Her husband had been dead for several years and since his death she had been making her home with her children. She is well known in the Brookville community, having lived there most of her life.

Besides her daughter at whose home she died she is survived by six daughters, two sons, two brothers and three sisters. The daughters are Miss Ella Jones, of near St. Omer; Mrs. Carrie Marlowe, of Sandusky, Decatur county; Mrs. Rome Fleetwood, of Williamstown; Mrs. Winnie Schneck of Manilla; Mrs. Pearl Brooks, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Lora White, of Brookville. The sons are Oscar and Lee Jones, both of Indianapolis. The brothers are Morgan and Louis Mason, of Brookville, and the sisters are Misses Sarah and Ida Mason, of Brookville, and Mrs. Anna Matthew, of Ohio.

The funeral services will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gahimer, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and the interment will be made in the Moscow cemetery.

CORONER BRINGS INQUIRY TO CLOSE

Believed No Victims Will be Added
to List of Dead in C. H. & D.
Wreck.

ALL ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Coroner Durham is preparing to close his inquiry into the C. H. & D. wreck of November 13, in Irvington, when sixteen passengers and trainmen lost their lives. It is now assured that no other victims will be added to the list of the dead. Physicians attending the injured at the Deaconess hospital say they will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Hugh Kemp, a passenger, is at the hospital. Mr. Kemp suffered a broken leg and severe internal injuries. It was feared at first he would not recover. J. L. Jefferson, colored porter, who suffered a fracture of the skull, was one of the most seriously injured. Carl Gross, brakeman on the freight crew, is also at the hospital. He has a broken leg, but is doing well, his physicians say.

ZONE EXTENDS OVER INTO OHIO

Rushville and Rush County People
Must Pay Second Zone Rates
to Indianapolis.

IT IS LOCATED IN SECOND

Division of United States For Purposes of Parcels Post Obliterates State Lines.

Rushville is in unit No. 1869.

What does it mean? It means that of the thirty-five hundred divisions of the United States, made according to parallels and meridians for the purposes of parcels post charge, Rushville is located in that unit.

Stated in the most simple terms possible, the new United States parcels post system is being organized as follows:

Correct government maps have been taken as a basis for laying out the system. Between the latitudinal and longitudinal degree lines have been run, half degree lines. These have resulted in cutting each square degree into four equal parts. There are a few less than four thousand of these over the country.

Each of these square quarter degree is called a "unit." Rushville, Connersville, Newcastle and Carthage, for example, are in Unit No. 1869, and, as later will be shown, they and all of the other offices in the unit will simply be known as "Unit 1869."

On this field of units is laid the circles of a zone system. The first "zone" in each case is quadrangular. This zone is arranged to take in as nearly as possible the territory within a mean radius of fifty miles. The first (quadrangular) zone consists of the units and all of the units contiguous to it. For example—apply this plan to Rushville, and all other postoffices in Unit 1869—the area of this zone No. 1, is Unit 1869, and the surrounding units Nos. 1819, 1820, 1870, 1920, 1919, 1918, 1868 and 1818.

A map of the parcels post divisions shows that zone No. 1 for Unit 1869 extends north to just beyond Hartford City, the county seat of Blackford county; east through Fayette and Union counties into Ohio for about eight miles; south to the county seat of Jennings county and to the line dividing Dearborn and Ohio counties; west to just over the line dividing Shelby and Johnson counties, and Hancock and Marion counties.

Thus it will be seen that all of Madison, Delaware, Randolph, Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Shelby, Rush, Fayette, Union, Decatur, Franklin and Dearborn will be included in Rushville and Rush county's first zone. Other counties which are partly or almost wholly included in the local first zone are Bartholomew, Jennings, Ripley, Ohio, Jay, Blackford, Grant, Howard, Tipton, Hamilton, Marion and Johnson.

It may be ascertained from this that most of the important cities and towns in these counties will be in the local first zone and parcels post packages may be shipped to those points for first zone rates. Indianapolis, Kokomo, Tipton, Nashville, Noblesville and Franklin are most of the Indiana towns and cities which will be just over the line in the second zone from Rushville's and Rush county's. Marion appears to be just about on the line and it may require a decision from each office to determine what the charge shall be on parcels post sent from this zone to Marion.

A strip about eight miles wide and possibly two hundred miles long in Ohio along the Indiana line is also included in our first zone.

The government's new zone system wipes out state lines as completely as does the flat postage rates now in effect.

There is one noteworthy feature of this zone No. 1—it reaches farther north and south than east and west. This is due to the narrowing degree lines running north and south. First zones in Texas, therefore, are larger east and west than in Indiana, and those here are wider than those in North Dakota.

ZELLA HARDIN IS SECOND IN PRIMARY

Rushville Girl Wins Good Position in Preliminary Oratorical Contest
at Earlham College.

TO DECIDE REPRESENTATIVE

Miss Zella Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardin of West Third street, a sophomore in Earlham college at Richmond, finished second in the preliminary contest to elect the representative of the school in the State oratorical contest which will be held in Indianapolis in February.

Even though Miss Hardin narrowly missed winning the coveted prize—the right to represent her college—there are emoluments which go with second honors. She receives a cash prize of fifteen dollars and expenses to the contest in Indianapolis. Her subject was "Tolstoi."

It is reported here that Prof. Trueblood of Earlham has said that Miss Hardin is an excellent student in elocution. Although only a freshman at the time, she spoke at the commencement exercises last spring and was highly praised for her work. She exhibited some ability while in the local high school. She finished second in the high school preliminary contest for the State oratorical three years ago.

NOT TO BE USED TO BUY A TOMBSTONE

Red Cross Seal Proceeds Will be Spent in Battle Against Tuberculosis Despite Misunderstanding.

SALE TO BE MOOR MONUMENT

The fact that it was stated this year's sale of Red Cross Christmas seals would be made a monument to the work of D. Henry Moor, who died recently and whose life was devoted to the fight on tuberculosis, has led many people to believe that some of the proceeds from the sale would be used to purchase a tombstone or something of the sort in memory of his efforts. Such is not the case. The expression merely meant that a special effort would be made to make the sale larger than ever, the proceeds to be used as heretofore stated.

The seals were placed on sale in the postoffice this morning in charge of the Tri Kappas and may be purchased there every day. They are on sale in most every store. Merchants who do not have them may apply to Dr. W. S. Coleman, president of the county society. Thirteen thousand and have been placed on sale here. Five thousand were sold last year, and it is hoped to beat that record. The seals do not have to be placed on Christmas gifts alone. They may be placed on any mailable matter any place but the address side.

SANTA WANTS TO EXPEDITE WORK

Urges His Friends to Donate Early
So he May Purchase Toys,
Candy and Nuts.

HIS FIRST SHOPPING TOUR

He Would Appreciate Donation of Use of Motor Trucks or Any Kind of Vehicles.

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund was augmented today by the contribution of a check for a dollar. It was a dollar that will make the fund that much nearer the goal, and it was very much appreciated, but there will have to be a great many more dollars in order to make the fund the financial success it was last year.

Santa Claus will likely go on his first shopping tour this evening. He does not care to spend any more money than has already been contributed to the fund. And, too, he would like to buy the necessary toys for all the little folks that will be visited by the Republican fund wagon this year.

So, in order that Santa may expedite the work, buy all the gifts, candy, nuts and fruits that he intends to buy, he urges his friends to contribute as early as they can. There is a great deal of work connected with the preparation for the delivery. The bundles have to be wrapped separately, and then they have to be routed for delivery. If the necessary amount is an uncertain quantity until the last minute, the workers will be crowded at the last few days before Christmas.

Santa will likely visit the Rushville little folks in the late afternoon of the day before Christmas. He anxious to deliver the packages as soon as possible. He will greatly appreciate the donation of any vehicles, motor trucks or anything to help in the work.

MANILLA TEAM IS COMING FOR GAME

Local Independents Grab Challenge
and Battle Will Take Place
Next Tuesday Night.

BENEFIT FOR CHURCH CHOIR

The challenge of the Manilla Independent basket-ball team has been accepted by the local Independents and the game will be played here next Tuesday night. Manilla in its challenge offered to take on any in the Sixth district and the Rushville team was quick to grab a game with the would-be champions. The game should prove a drawing card for two reasons. The first is that a real game is promised and the other is that the proceeds will go to the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

The game should be one of the best of the season. Manilla has won from every team it has played and the fans there believe their team the best in this part of the state. The benefit game will decide who's who.

Ed Burk, who was operated on at Sexton's sanatorium for stomach trouble a few weeks ago, has been removed to his home in Greensburg. His early recovery is expected, according to the Greensburg News.

BOLD MOUNTAINEERS THREATENED WILSON

Demand $5,000 On Penalty of Death for Refusal.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 11.—On a charge of sending a letter to Governor Wilson demanding $5,000 in gold, with death the penalty of a refusal, three members of a gang of mountaineers that for a long time has been terrorizing the farmers in the Ramapo mountains in the northern part of New Jersey, have been lodged in the Essex county jail here. The trio were arrested in the wild district known as Ford's mine, near Wharton, by Chief Postal Inspector James T. Cortelyou, Inspectors F. A. Butler and Clinton A. Larabee, and United States Marshal L. G. Beekman. The inspectors posed as Congressman W. E. Tuttle and representatives of the pension bureau, to get near the men they have been trailing for weeks. The mountaineers were heavily armed and there was a sharp fight before they were subdued, several shots being fired.

The prisoners are Warren Dunn, alias Pete; his brother Jacob, alias Nig; and Seeley Davenport, alias Snake. Jacob is understood to have been the writer of the letter to Governor Wilson, and of others to Thomas P. King, an artist with a place at Ledgewood, and P. J. Meisel of Dover, whose death was hastened by the threats in the missive he received. The postal inspectors have secured a partial admission from the men that they had sent the letter to the governor.

Will Hold Up Appointment.

Washington, Dec. 11.—There will be another delay in the appointment of a postmaster at Indianapolis, inasmuch as Joseph B. Kealing, whose indorsement the president is expected to follow, will not come to Washington to make his recommendation until after the holidays. Senator Shively of Indiana stated that he intends to hold up the confirmation of anybody whom the president names, on the ground that the appointment would be made purely for political purposes.

able development of which he knew. Mr. Frew, who is a director of the Bankers Trust company, was not prepared to ascribe this abnormal growth to the influence of J. P. Morgan & Co. He believed it was partly due to the remarkable activity of the officers of the trust company.

Wall Street Speculation.

The committee also took up, for the first time, the question of the effect of Wall street speculation upon interest rates during the usual periods of stringency in the money market. With Mr. Frew still on the stand, the committee brought out the fact that the Corn Exchange bank loaned about the same amount, $11,000,000, to brokers on Nov. 1, as they did on Jan. 1 of this year, when the money market was considerably easier. It was developed, also, that the deposits of out-of-town banks with the Corn Exchange bank were $200,000 greater on Nov. 1, when interest rates in Wall street were 8 per cent, than on June 1, when money was bringing only 2 per cent.

The contention of the investigators seemed to be that Wall street speculators, by running up the interest rates, were able to attract to or at least retain in New York money which was sorely needed by merchants and other commercial enterprises in periods of stringency. Mr. Frew was unwilling to concede that the money lent by the Corn Exchange bank and other big banks in New York in stock exchange collateral, or to stock exchange houses was used for speculative purposes.

Once or twice reference was made by counsel for the committee to the possibility of imposing a limit to the interest charge that should be made for money on call loans, indicating that the committee had it in mind as a possible recommendation.

PROFESSOR TAFT

That Is to Be President's Title When His Term Expires.

New York, Dec. 11.—President Taft will not go to Cincinnati and practice law when he leaves the White House, but has agreed to accept a professorship in the Yale law school. This statement was made authoritatively by a close friend of President Taft, who said he was acquainted with the president's plans.

It was stated that President Taft will accept the Kent professorship of law, which has been unfilled since the death of Edward J. Phelps in 1900. Mr. Phelps was appointed to the professorship in 1881, and although he became minister to Great Britain by appointment of President Cleveland in 1885, he retained it until his death. The professorship covers lectures in both constitutional and international law.

It is understood that President Taft's motive in accepting the Kent professorship is due chiefly to his fondness for Yale university and all it represents. No alumnus of the institution is held in higher esteem by the entire graduate body than President Taft, while the president on his frequent visits to Yale has constantly expressed gratification over his return to his alma mater.

Dangerous Vandalism.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 11.—John Logans, living near Freeport, lost a fodder shredding machine when it was blown up by dynamite. The machine was a self-feeder. Fodder was passing through when suddenly a terrific explosion threw the machine into the air. No one was near at the time. A stick of dynamite had been placed in the fodder.

WEATHER NOT TO BLAME

It's Your Condition.

"This weather simply takes the life right out of me, I can hardly drag one foot after the other," said a run-down, tired-out woman, the other day.

We want to say to every such person in this vicinity, don't blame the weather, it's your condition. You need a strengthening tonic and the very best we know of is Vinol which is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil and tonic iron, for the blood.

A case has just come to our attention from Vineland, N. J. Mrs. Allen T. Godfrey says: "I never fail to say a good word for Vinol, for it restored my strength and vigor after I had been in a badly run-down condition for several months. Every one who is broken in health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson and Company, druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

$5,400,000,000 A MONTH.

Jules Roche Declares That Besides Colossal Ruin at Home It Would Paralyze the Entire World For Awhile. Le Roy-Beaulieu and Alfred Neymarck Emphasize Fact.

The discussion of the possibility of a great European war has engaged the attention of diplomats and political leaders throughout the continent and Great Britain and some of the speculations as to cost are staggering. The most striking opinion is that of M. Jules Roche, former French minister of commerce, who made some remarkable calculations on the point.

Taking as a basis the expense incurred by France during the war of 1870, he reckons that, assuming for the sake of example, the six nations of the triple alliance and the triple entente went to war, the cost of maintaining the armies alone would work out at no less than $5,400,000,000 a month without taking into account the other expenses.

Stagnation of War.

"And what would be their internal condition?" he asks. "The belligerent nations would be struck with general paralysis and would see their very means of subsistence disappear. Suspension of work would be forced even on those who were not included in the general mobilization, since whom would there be to work for?"

"To whom would they sell their products? How could they be exchanged or transported? All the large works and factories where the division of labor is completed would have to be shut. Even agriculture would be impossible.

"No more purchases or sales, either the economic or the financial death of labor, an abrupt stoppage of the heart's action in the national organism of all the nations at war, with profound reaction on all others—such would be the consequences of a general conflagration in the present conditions of European civilization."

France Would Suffer Less.

Similar opinions are held by Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, member of the institute and one of France's leading economists. He thinks, however, that in such a crisis France would suffer less than the other great powers, since, being self supporting, she always has at her disposal an immense accumulation of agricultural products of the previous year whereon she could draw for a long period.

She would thus be in far better circumstances than Germany, for instance, which would find the greatest difficulty in obtaining imports, being cut off by the English fleet on the one hand and by Russia on the other.

"But," he adds, "it is after the war that a vanquished nation would have the hardest times, for many years would be necessary to repair the losses and heal the wounds."

Alfred Neymarck, vice president of the French Society of Political Economy, after pointing out the huge magnitude of commercial, industrial and financial interests as well as the enormous expansion in credit and business generally among the six nations which would be engaged, asserts that the consequences of an abrupt cessation of all this activity through a general war would be incalculable in its vastness.

SUNSHINE IN EVERY CELL.

And Glass Doors—Plans For New Joliet (Ill.) Prison.

Following are some of the features of the plans for the new state penitentiary which is to be built at Joliet, Ill., at a cost of $3,500,000:

Sunshine in every cell. Constant supervision of prisoners from one central point.

Circular cell houses connected with a central dining hall.

Separate heating and ventilating arrangements, assuring the maximum effect for health of inmates.

The plans, drawn after three years' study of prisons in this country and Europe, have been submitted to Governor Deneen. The cell houses are circular structures about 120 feet in diameter. Instead of an open cage of steel, heavy glass will be placed between the bars, so as to make an inclosed room of each cell.

FORE! AMEER PLAYS GOLF.

Natives Put Petitions In The Holes on the New Links.

The ameer of Afghanistan has taken up golf keenly and has had good links laid out in the neighborhood of Kabul.

The natives were much puzzled by the well kept greens; but, recognizing the game as a royal one, they put the holes to a practical purpose. They got into the habit of placing petitions into the holes at night in the hope that they would reach the ameer when he was putting next day.

But his majesty's temper apparently was not improved by the royal game. He resented this attempt to take advantage of his recreations and ordered that all such petitions be burned unread.

EXPECT TO MAKE A POINT OUT OF IT

Becker's Attorneys Pleased at Webber's Statement.

New York, Dec. 11.—Highly pleased are the attorneys for former Police Lieutenant Becker at the statements made by Bridge Webber on his return from Havana. They are busy pouring over the testimony of the trial and picking out conflicting statements and errors to be used in the retrial which they are expecting.

Mr. McIntyre exclaimed forcibly: "It is just what I have been expecting. I knew that those men would recant. I believe now that Schepps and Vallon will have a different story to tell. As for Rose, you cannot expect anything different from him, for he admitted to me on the stand that he had no conscience, and that if he did have one it never troubled him."

Mr. Shay said: "We are going to show that this is the greatest injustice that has ever been done a man since the Dreyfus case. I should not be surprised to see a wholesale prosecution for perjury and perhaps a subornation of perjury."

Webber issued a statement repudiating in many respects the story he told on the witness stand. He said there was no plot to murder Rosenthal. On the contrary, he said, the gunmen went to the Hotel Metropole to frighten the gambler, but two of them got drunk and the fatal shooting resulted.

WILL TAKE IT HIGHER

Supreme Court Will Be Asked For Decision on Meander Line.

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 11.—Persons who have bought meander lands from the state will be forced to relinquish their claims, if a decision by Judge Gallagher in the case of Doney against the Leavell Realty company is sustained by the supreme court. Judge Gallagher ruled that the meander line of the Kankakee river was intended only to mark the sinuosity of the stream. Therefore the owners of border lots hold natural title to all the land between the meander line and the thread of the stream. Appeal may be taken from Judge Gallagher's decision.

Doctors and Politics.

Genuine aristocracy is without false pretense and so is genuine democracy. And there are people, neither aristocrats nor democrats, living plain, simple, wholesome and unaffected lives. But in this country we have been producing, in later years, a sort of persons now numerous enough to be called a class, the type of which, unaffiliated with aristocracy by blood, or with democracy by a sympathy which would be natural and becoming, makes vain pretense of ideals it insists should inspire the polemics of politics. In the late campaign the type of this class found opportunity of expression in horrified protest of calling Prof. Wilson a professor or Dr. Wilson a doctor. They insisted that he should be called governor, as if the title of governor were a higher title, conveying more of honor and rank, than either doctor or professor, or both doctor and professor. They have shown all of the servility of a worship of mere officialism, in their foolish attempts at posing.

Their antics afforded no little amusement while the campaign progressed, but the post-election period brings us something more delicious than clash and clangor could yield. The Chicago Record-Herald, saying once more that "doctor" and "professor" were names applied to the now president elect only by "cheaper and meaner partisans," hoping to raise, distrust and suspicion among the hard-headed millions, rejoices that these base varlets have failed in their nefarious attempts to make the people forget that he was a governor, a blazonry to wipe out the old stains of doctor and professor at one stroke. And it rejoices with an even more exceeding great joy, that, in the great triumph of Gov. Wilson in practical politics, his earlier titles of "doctor" and "professor" shine now with a reflected glory. "The election has effectively disposed of the fallacy that to call a candidate 'professor' or 'doctor' is to damn him with faint praise," it says.

This is revelation. Heretofore we have always felt that doctors and professors were to be honored as those, having attained title and rank through meritorious effort. And we shall persist in that belief, even if the completed official returns show us that the president elect made so uncreditable a race that, in the face of a disrupted opposition, he could not poll the Bryan vote of four years ago. If such a weakness of his candidacy is disclosed, we would rather attribute it to the weakness of his party than to any college degree, or any educational title he has ever won. In such a pinch, we would call him condemned more as governor, or Democrat, than as professor or doctor. Still, if there are professors or doctors who feel too keenly the onus the Record-Herald would put upon them, they can run for office and get rid of it if they can be elected, no matter how.

If Austria and Russia go to war, there is reason to believe that the territory they are fighting about may be big enough to bury the soldiers who will be killed.

The president-elect has 100,000 offices to distribute, but when will the needs of a growing country be met by providing a job for every applicant?

NOT WANTED IN THIS CITY

Police Had Bum Tip on Man Field in Indianapolis.

The police here had a bum tip when they thought John Courtland, alias VanCamp, arrested in Indianapolis for stealing merchandise valued at $125 was wanted here. The first description of the man led the local authorities to believe that he was Simon "Dutch" Hitts, who robbed Chief McAllister of $11 and several articles of clothing and beat it from the city. A picture of Courtland published in an Indianapolis paper proved to the officers here that he was not Hitts.

CAN'T SEE "BIG SMOKE" WEDDING

AGAINST TOBACCO COUPONS

Motion picture patrons of Indiana will be denied the privilege of witnessing the wedding of Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, and Miss Lucile Cameron, his nineteen-year-old white bride. This was the decision of the delegates to the convention of the Indiana Motion Picture Exhibitors' League at the Denison Hotel yesterday. Of the 500 exhibitors in the state, 300 are members of this organization. Three of the local motion picture house owners are members, Louis H. Thatcher of the Palace and Walter Easley of the Princess went to Indianapolis today to attend.

A resolution was adopted against accepting tobacco coupons as an entrance fee. A company is putting coupons in packages of cigarettes. When a certain number of coupons are accumulated, the possessor may present them at any picture show and gain admittance, the coupon says, but it will not be so in Indiana.

The exhibitors decided that the "Young Wild West" pictures are crude and demoralizing and refuse to show them.

The Root of Evil

A STITCH IN TIME

Rushville People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

No kidney ailment is unimportant. Don't overlook the slightest backache or urinary irregularity. Nature may be warning you of approaching dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Kidney disease is seldom fatal if treated in time, but neglect may pave the way. Don't neglect a lame or aching back another day. Don't ignore dizzy spells, irregular or discolored urine, headaches, weariness or depression. If you feel you need kidney help begin using the reliable, time-tried remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. For 50 years, Doan's have been found effective. Endorsed by Rushville people.

Mrs. L. B. Leeds, 904 W. Second St., Rushville, Ind., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they are just fine. I was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and my kidneys were weak, causing backache. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family with good results, so I took them. They promptly cured me and I have not been bothered since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

begin again the round of another day. In all the hurrying thousands not one knew or cared a straw whether the man of millions in his silent palace on the drive lived or died.

The house was evidently in hopeless confusion. Servants wandered in every direction without order. Doctor after doctor passed in and out, and the sickening odor of medicines filled the air. A group of newspaper reporters stood at the foot of the grand stairway.

Nan stood shivering at the head of the stairs, pale, disheveled, her dark eyes wide and staring with a new expression of terror in their depths.

"How is he, Nan?"

"Worse," she stammered through chattering teeth. "The doctors say he can't possibly live. He has been calling for me for the last hour. I can't—go!"

"Why?"

"I'm afraid!"

He took her hand. It was cold and he felt a tremor run through her body at his touch.

"Come, come, Nan, you're not a silly child. I'm ashamed of you. If Cal is calling, go to him at once. You must see him."

Shivering in silence she led Stuart to the door of Bivens' room and tied to her own.

On a magnificent bed of gleaming ebony inlaid with rows of opals, thousands of opals, Stuart found the little shriveled form. The swarthy face was white and drawn, the hard thin lips fallen back from two rows of smooth teeth in pitiful, fevered weakness. The shifting eyes caught sight of Stuart.

"It's awfully good of you to come up here so soon," he began feebly.

"I've some plans I want you to carry out for me right away. You see I never thought before of the world as a place where there were so many men and women sick and suffering—thousands and tens and hundreds of thousands. These doctors say that every night in New York alone there are half a million people sick or bending over the beds of loved ones who are suffering, and two hundred die every day."

He paused for breath, and the black eyes stared at his friend.

"Jim, I can't die! I haven't lived! I've got to get up from here and do some things I've meant to do—all those sick people—I've got to do something for them. I'm going to build palaces for the lame, the halt, the sick, the blind. I'm going to gather the great men of science from the ends of the earth and set them to work to lift this shadow from the world."

"I'll make good. Do you understand? Ten millions each!"

A sudden pain seized and convulsed his frail body and Stuart called the doctors from the next room.

They stood by in helpless sympathy. "Can't you stop this pain?" the financier gasped in anger. "What are you here for? Am I not able to buy enough morphine to stop this hellish agony?"

A DEMAND FOR BETTER ROADS

Organized Effort in This Behalf in Indiana.

CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION

For Three Days Advocates of Good Roads in Indiana Will Talk Over Ways and Means For Securing the Adoption of Improved Methods of Highway Construction and Will Urge a Revision of the State Laws.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 11.—In the draft of a bill completed under the direction of the Indiana Good Roads association to be presented to the Indiana better roads convention, which opened this morning at the German House, a revolution in the road building and supervising system of Indiana is proposed.

The bill follows, in many of its essential details, a measure which was proposed to the last legislature. It provides a state highway board and a state highway commissioner, and for the distribution of state funds to aid road building. The bill also will demand the elimination of grade crossings from the main roads and the collection of an automobile and vehicle tax to obtain funds to carry on road work. The bill will provide that no road shall be taken over by the state except on demand of the county authorities and then only if it is a much-traveled highway. The bill also will provide that the cost of maintaining such a road will be borne half by the state and half by the county. Clarence A. Kenyon, president of the Indiana Good Roads association, and also president of the convention, will offer the bill for consideration.

A Notable Affair.

The convention, which will continue through Friday, promises to be a notable affair. Prominent Indiana good roads advocates are present and several men prominent in the national movement are taking part. A good roads exhibit is one of the interesting features. This exhibit has been installed by M. O. Eldridge of the bureau of roads, department of agriculture.

The convention was called to order by Mr. Kenyon. Governor Marshall, Mayor Shank and Charles W. Fairbanks delivered addresses of welcome. Charles A. Bookwalter, J. M. Lowe of Kansas City, W. D. Ward of Carmel, Ind., and Jesse Taylor of Jamestown, O., spoke this afternoon, and Mr. Eldridge and Paul D. Sargent of Washington will give illustrated road lectures this evening. One of the afternoon speakers was Mrs. Caleb S. Denny, representing the D. A. R., an organization interested in good roads.

ENFORCING LAW

The State Cleaning Up Unsanitary Food Handling Establishments.

Indianapolis, Dec. 11.—Illegal food samples are becoming more numerous at the pure food laboratories of the state board of health, according to the monthly report of H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner. Of ninety-six samples of foods examined sixty-seven were declared illegal. Cream and milk products were responsible for the increase. Thirty-six illegal cream samples were examined and eleven of milk were condemned.

Three temperance beers out of eight examined were found illegal, and four specimens of prepared meats condemned. Three samples of drugs, one of which was linseed oil, were condemned. Eighteen were examined.

Two prosecutions under the weights law were reported; the arrests being practically the first that have figured in department reports. Both were in Vigo county for selling short weights of coal. Out of a total of 1,425 food handling establishments visited, 939 were "good," 413 "fair," thirty-eight "poor," eight "bad," and twenty-seven "excellent." There were thirty-two condemnations of food handling establishments, seven for improper construction and all because they were unsanitary.

Robbed and Fatally Beaten.

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 11.—Lured by fellow countrymen to visit others near Gary, who would give him the latest news from the Balkans, Lizo Korto, a Hammond Macedonian, was attacked on a lonely road, robbed of $1,000, and beaten up so badly that he will die. Bozin Tanos and Louis Maldy are sought by the police.

Woman's Clothing Ignited.

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Elmer Quick, aged twenty-five, who lived in Nineveh township, Bartholomew county, was burned to death near her home. She was working at a heating stove, and it is supposed her clothing caught fire. She ran out of her house to the street and there fell, her clothing burned from her body.

A Boy and a Gun.

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 11.—While hunting, Earl Brouzan, aged seventeen, peered into the barrel of his rifle. The trigger was accidentally pulled and Brouzan died with a bullet wound in his temple. Brouzan and two companions were seated on a log resting when Brouzan's gun was accidentally discharged.

HENRY D. CLAYTON

House Manager in the Arch-
bald Impeachment Proceedings.

RUBBER ATROCITIES STILL CONTINUING

No Let Up of Horrid Slavery
In Putumayo District.

London, Dec. 11.—In the house of commons a question was asked as to whether the government is aware that atrocities in the Putumayo rubber district in Peru are continuing and whether it is true that 122 heads of murdered men, women and children were seen in one district last March. The government was urged, if the reports were true, to communicate with the Peruvian government at once.

This matter comes up again through a batch of dispatches from the Colombian consul at Manaoas to the British consul at Iquitos, copies of which the Colombian consul in London handed to the anti-slavery society here. The main object of the dispatches is to establish the right of Colombia to certain portions of the Putumayo territory, but they also contain harrowing revelations of renewed barbarities, such as those mentioned in Sir Roger Casement's report last spring.

The consul at Manaoas expresses surprise at the manner in which the Putumayo investigating commission, which has already returned and one member of which is now in London, conducted its investigations. The consul alleges that the "commission was surrounded by agents and friends of the company into whose conduct it is inquiring, and is thus missing material facts. The persons surrounding the commission had a special interest in keeping the crimes dark."

The consul adds lengthy particulars of tortures with the hatchet and lash, the setting afire of persons whose bodies had been soaked with oil, the traffic in Indian children who had been stolen from their families and sold like donkeys, and many other atrocities. The consul says that although the atrocities straightened up for a while, they were renewed, owing to the diminution of rubber, under the protection of a system which communicates warnings whenever strangers visit the countries.

MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE

Gibson House and Adjoining Buildings
Damaged at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Dec. 11.—A fire that started about 8 o'clock last evening from a gasoline engine in the basement of a new addition to the Gibson House entailed a loss to the hotel and adjoining business structures estimated at a million dollars.

The fire also communicated to the Union Trust building at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets in the same block, and a total loss of that building was threatened.

There was a panic at the Gibson House, although owing to the early hour few if any of the guests had retired for the night. It is stated that all the inmates were saved, none even being injured.

The whole block on Walnut between Fourth and Fifth was burned. It is believed that six scrub women were caught in upper stories of the Union bank building and burned to death. Several others were injured.

THE EUROPEAN CRISIS IS PAST

Resort to War Now Considered
Unbelievable.

AMERICAN BANKERS PLAY SAFE

Successful Flotation of a $25,000,000 Loan to Austria Undertaken by Financiers in the United States, Based Upon the Assurance That There Is No Likelihood of an European War, Serves to Quiet War's Alarms.

London, Dec. 11.—The announcement of the successful flotation of the $25,000,000 loan to Austria undertaken by American bankers has served further to quiet the recent war alarms, for it was understood that it was made on the assurance that there was no likelihood of a European war.

London insurance underwriters are doing an enormous amount of business covering the risks of war between Russia and Austria on property on the Galicia frontier on the borderland between the two countries, and Lloyds is taking all sorts of bets on the prospects of war.

The general belief in St. Petersburg in well informed circles not swayed by the talk of war among the people, seems to be that the crisis is past and that the resort to war on the part of Austria is unbelievable.

Sir Edward Grey in the house of commons said that the ambassadorial conference which will go on at the same time as the peace conferences will be informal in its nature and will consist of a non-committal discussion on the part of the diplomats to facilitate an exchange of views between the various powers.

It is said that Italy and Austria Hungary, with a view to safeguarding the independence of Albania, have decided to declare the neutrality of that country.

Greece Will Join Conference.

Constantinople, Dec. 11.—The Turkish peace plenipotentiaries have left for London. It is stated here that Greece will sign the armistice next Friday, the day before the London meeting, in order to be able to participate in the peace conference on equal terms with the other members of the Balkan confederation.

PUSHING THE TRIAL

Senate Disposed to Make Haste in Impeachment Case.

Washington, Dec. 11.—There has been much discussion in the senate of the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald interfering with the holiday recess. It is conceded that unless the trial is concluded before Saturday, Dec. 21, the senate will either have to discontinue taking testimony for the time being or give up the holiday adjournment plan. The outlook had become so serious that conferences were held between senate leaders and Congressman Clayton, manager on the part of the house. Judge Clayton assured senate leaders he would hasten things as fast as possible, and Senator Bacon, the presiding judge, is showing a disposition to require counsel on both sides to cut out unnecessary interrogatories.

Denouncing Judge Archbald as a "corrupt judge" who connived with a "dishonest lawyer" to help the railroads ruin him, the principal complaining witness at the Archbald impeachment trial, William P. Boland of Scranton, Pa., created the first sensation in this remarkable trial. This denunciation was uttered by the witness while looking squarely at Judge Archbald. The object of the denunciation sat apparently as serene and unruffled as he has been throughout the trial, during the entire course of which his composure has been a subject of daily remark.

Throughout his testimony this witness directed a remarkably bitter personal feeling toward Judge Archbald. "When I discovered that the railroads were using Judge Archbald," he observed at one time, "I wanted to button up the judge so he could not get away," said Boland. "I knew it was a hard thing to get a case against a federal judge, so I knew I must get admissions from Judge Archbald and his associates."

None Worthy of High Prize.

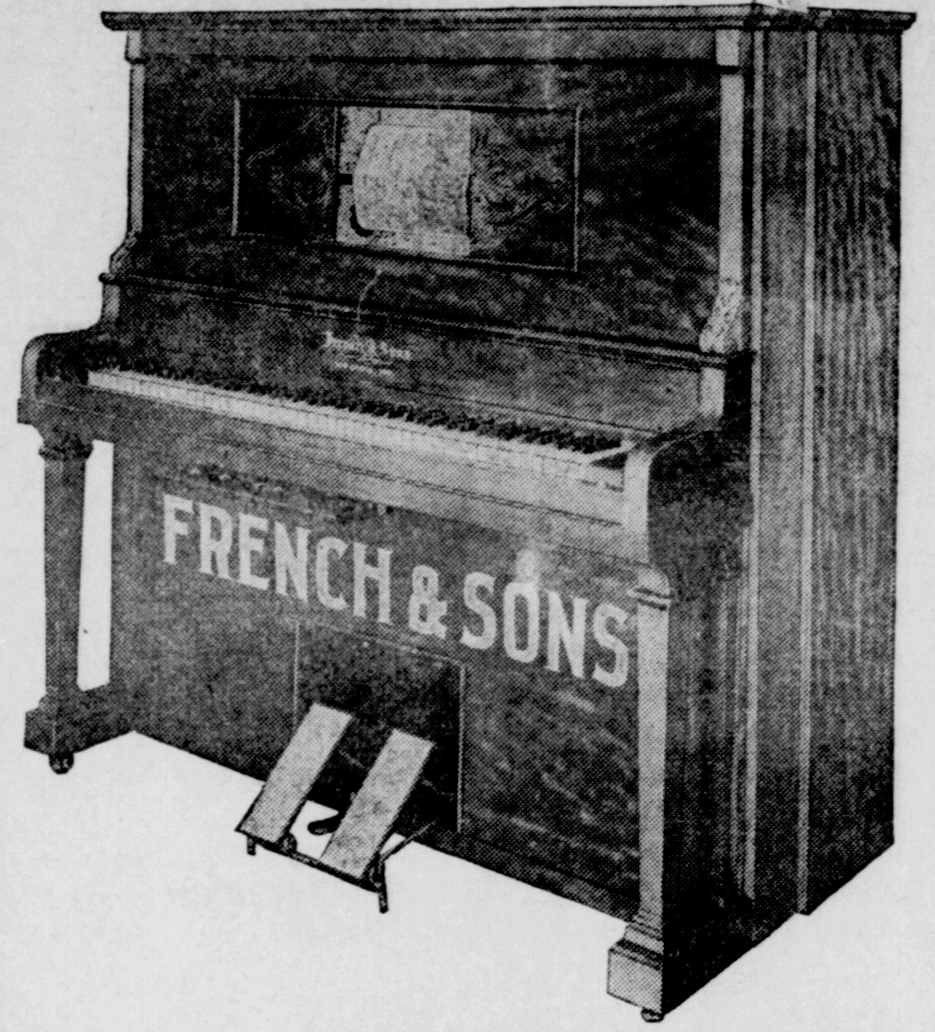

Christiania, Dec. 11.—The Nobel peace prize will not be awarded this year. This is the first time since the establishment of the Nobel foundation, the first award of which was made in 1901, that the committee of the Norwegian parliament has found no person worthy of the award.

Governor O. K.'s Sentences.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Governor Glasscock approved the sentence of the military court in the cases of Felix Salmon, Angelo Billeto, Rock Spinelle and "Newt" Gump, convicted of disorder in the martial-law district. Each was given five years in the penitentiary.

Held as Suspects.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 11.—After a fight in which a dozen shots were exchanged, Frank Holloway, an escaped convict, and three companions said by the police to have been connected with bank robberies and train holdups, were arrested.

REPORT OF DEATH UNFOUNDED

Interest in Case Aroused Because Charles Eck is Administrator of His Father's Estate.

Information that Charles Eck, 36 years old, who had been mysteriously missing since the second day of November, has returned to Indianapolis, was given out in this city by Senator Will A. Yarling, one of the attorneys interested in the settlement of the estate of Eck's father, the late George Eck, of this county, says the Shelbyville Democrat. It is said that Eck returned to Indianapolis some time last week and the statement was news to most of his relatives and all his friends in this county.

The statement from Senator Yarling was given out because of a story in effect that the body of a man supposed to be Eck had been found in a trunk at Kokomo. The story of the strange find came over the telephone to the sheriff and the Kokomo authorities who were investigating the case wanted descriptions of Mr. Eck and information that would enable them to get in communication with his wife.

She has been living with their two children at their home on Bluff Ave. in Indianapolis since Mr. Eck's disappearance. It is practically admitted that there was trouble between Mr. Eck and his wife prior to his disappearance, but Senator Yarling said he did not know whether there had been a reconciliation or not.

Mr. Yarling stated that his information regarding the return of Eck came from the latter's brother, Edward Eck. He received a letter from Edward Eck, the letter coming to him just after he reached home from Philadelphia.

Senator Yarling said he felt sure the body found at Kokomo, if one were really found, could not be that of Eck.

Interest in the case of the missing man was increased through the fact that Eck was the administrator of his father's estate, which is valued at $10,000, and it was feared at first he might have misused some of the property that had been entrusted to his care, but it has been demonstrated by an investigation that such is not the case.

Eck formerly lived near St. Paul and is a carpenter contractor. Since his disappearance his wife has filed in Shelby circuit court a claim of $4,960 against the estate of the late Mr. Eck had promised her a ten-acre tract of land from his estate for care and attention she had given him while living in his home during the last ten years of his life.

HOWARD STEWART TO RESCUE.

When Francis Coyne shook down the ashes in the coal stove in John Demmer's cigar store this morning, he also shook the stove pipe down. The fire was burning high and the smoke filled the room. Efforts to put the pipe back were fruitless, and in order to keep from damaging the room young Coyne called Howard Stewart from the Weeks Fresh Meat & Provision Company and the two carried the red hot stove into the street.

as, Several Years Ago.

William Thomas, age sixty-four years, formerly a resident of this county who removed from here to Madison county several years ago with his father, the late Edwin Thomas, was killed in a railroad wreck at Melrose Park, Ill., a small town ten miles from Chicago on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad.

The news of Mr. Thomas' death came in a telegram to Mrs. Laura Wilson, Anderson, a sister of the deceased, yesterday noon.

Details of the accident are meagre, but it is believed that he was killed in a freight wreck of the Chicago & Northwestern yesterday forenoon.

Mr. Thomas was moving from a farm near Huron, South Dakota, to a farm near Andover, O., and was enroute in a freight car with his household goods when the accident befel him. Relatives say that he left his home in South Dakota one week ago last Saturday, with his furniture. With him at the time of the accident were two sons, Layton, age 26, and Walter, age 19. Nothing has been heard of them.

In his immediate family Mr. Thomas is survived by his wife and two daughters, Misses Lena and Pearl who are in South Dakota at the old family home and the two sons named above.

The widow has been informed of the accident and is now enroute to Chicago to claim the body. She will take it on to Anderson and the funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilson in Anderson.

The victim of the wreck moved from this county several years ago with his father when the exodus of Rush county people to Madison county became a daily occurrence almost. Until two years ago he lived in the vicinity of Linwood, Madison county, when he sold a farm of eighty acres and went to South Dakota. Recently he traded the South Dakota farm for a tract of land near Andover, O.

LYDIA JONES IS DEAD AT 62 YEARS

Prominent Woman Living in Southwestern Part of County Suc-
cumbs After Year's Illness.

CASE SERIOUS ONLY 3 DAYS

Her death will come as a great shock not only to her relatives, but to her many friends as well.

Deceased was a member of the United Brethren church, having united with the church of that denomination in Franklin county, and during her whole life she had always been an ardent worker for the cause that it stood for. CORONER BRINGS INQUIRY TO CLOSE

to List of Dead in C. H. & D.
Wreck.

ALL ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Coroner Durham is preparing to close his inquiry into the C. H. & D. wreck of November 13, in Irvington, when sixteen passengers and trainmen lost their lives. It is now assured that no other victims will be added to the list of the dead. Physicians attending the injured at the Deaconess hospital say they will soon be able to leave the hospital.

Hugh Kemp, a passenger, is at the hospital. Mr. Kemp suffered a broken leg and severe internal injuries. It was feared at first he would not recover. J. L. Jefferson, colored porter, who suffered a fracture of the skull, was one of the most seriously injured. Carl Gross, brakeman on the freight crew, is also at the hospital. He has a broken leg, but is doing well, his physicians say.

ZONE EXTENDS OVER INTO OHIO

Rushville and Rush County People Must Pay Second Zone Rates
to Indianapolis.

IT IS LOCATED IN SECOND

Division of United States For Purposes of Parcels Post Obliterates State Lines.

Rushville is in unit No. 1869.

What does it mean? It means that of the thirty-five hundred divisions of the United States, made according to parallels and meridians for the purposes of parcels post charge, Rushville is located in that unit.

Stated in the most simple terms possible, the new United States parcels post system is being organized as follows:

Correct government maps have been taken as a basis for laying out the system. Between the latitudinal and longitudinal degree lines have been run, half degree lines. These have resulted in cutting each square degree into four equal parts. There are a few less than four thousand of these over the country.

Each of these square quarter degree is called a "unit." Rushville, Connersville, Newcasttle and Carthage, for example, are in Unit No. 1869, and, as later will be shown, they and all of the other offices in the unit will simply be known as "Unit 1869."

On this field of units is laid the circles of a zone system. The first "zone" in each case is quadrangular. This zone is arranged to take in as nearly as possible the territory within a mean radius of fifty miles. The first (quadrangular) zone consists of the units and all of the units contiguous to it. For example—apply this plan to Rushville, and all other postoffices in Unit 1869—the area of this zone No. 1, is Unit 1869, and the surrounding units Nos. 1819, 1820, 1870, 1920, 1919, 1918, 1868 and 1818.

A map of the parcels post divisions shows that zone No. 1 for Unit 1869 extends north to just beyond Hartford City, the county seat of Blackford county; east through Fayette and Union counties into Ohio for about eight miles; south to the county seat of Jennings county and to the line dividing Dearborn and Ohio counties; west to just over the line dividing Shelby and Johnson counties, and Hancock and Marion counties.

Thus it will be seen that all of Madison, Delaware, Randolph, Hancock, Henry, Wayne, Shelby, Rush, Fayette, Union, Decatur, Franklin and Dearborn will be included in Rushville and Rush county's first zone. Other counties which are partly or almost wholly included in the local first zone are Bartholomew, Jennings, Ripley, Ohio, Jay, Blackford, Grant, Howard, Tipton, Hamilton, Marion and Johnson.

It may be ascertained from this that most of the important cities and towns in these counties will be in the local first zone and parcels post packages may be shipped to those points for first zone rates. Indianapolis, Kokomo, Tipton, Nashville, Noblesville and Franklin are most of the Indiana towns and cities which will be just over the line in the second zone from Rushville's and Rush county's. Marion appears to be just about on the line and it may require a decision from each office to determine what the charge shall be on parcels post sent from this zone to Marion.

A strip about eight miles wide and possibly two hundred miles long in Ohio along the Indiana line is also included in our first zone.

The government's new zone system wipes out state lines as completely as does the flat postage rates now in effect.

There is one noteworthy feature of this zone No. 1—it reaches farther north and south than east and west. This is due to the narrowing degree lines running north and south. First zones in Texas, therefore, are larger east and west than in Indiana, and those here are wider than those in North Dakota.

ZELLA HARDIN IS SECOND IN PRIMARY

Rushville Girl Wins Good Position in Preliminary Oratorical Contest
at Earlham College.

TO DECIDE REPRESENTATIVE

Miss Zella Hardin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardin of West Third street, a sophomore in Earlham college at Richmond, finished second in the preliminary contest to elect the representative of the school in the State oratorical contest which will be held in Indianapolis in February.

Even though Miss Hardin narrowly missed winning the coveted prize—the right to represent her college—there are emoluments which go with second honors. She receives a cash prize of fifteen dollars and expenses to the contest in Indianapolis. Her subject was "Tolstoi."

It is reported here that Prof. Trueblood of Earlham has said that Miss Hardin is an excellent student in elocution. Although only a freshman at the time, she spoke at the commencement exercises last spring and was highly praised for her work. She exhibited some ability while in the local high school. She finished second in the high school preliminary contest for the State oratorical three years ago.

NOT TO BE USED TO BUY A TOMBSTONE

Red Cross Seal Proceeds Will be Spent in Battle Against Tuberculosis Despite Misunderstanding.

SALE TO BE MOOR MONUMENT

The fact that it was stated this year's sale of Red Cross Christmas seals would be made a monument to the work of D. Henry Moor, who died recently and whose life was devoted to the fight on tuberculosis, has led many people to believe that some of the proceeds from the sale would be used to purchase a tombstone or something of the sort in memory of his efforts. Such is not the case. The expression merely meant that a special effort would be made to make the sale larger than ever, the proceeds to be used as heretofore stated.

The seals were placed on sale in the postoffice this morning in charge of the Tri Kappas and may be purchased there every day. They are on sale in most every store. Merchants who do not have them may apply to Dr. W. S. Coleman, president of the county society. Thirteen thousand have been placed on sale here. Five thousand were sold last year, and it is hoped to beat that record. The seals do not have to be placed on Christmas gifts alone. They may be placed on any mailable matter any place but the address side.

SANTA WANTS TO EXPEDITE WORK

Urges His Friends to Donate Early
So he May Purchase Toys,
Candy and Nuts.

HIS FIRST SHOPPING TOUR

He Would Appreciate Donation of Use of Motor Trucks or Any Kind of Vehicles.

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund was augmented today by the contribution of a check for a dollar. It was a dollar that will make the fund that much nearer the goal, and it was very much appreciated, but there will have to be a great many more dollars in order to make the fund the financial success it was last year.

Santa Claus will likely go on his first shopping tour this evening. He does not care to spend any more money than has already been contributed to the fund. And, too, he would like to buy the necessary toys for all the little folks that will be visited by the Republican fund wagon this year.

So, in order that Santa may expedite the work, buy all the gifts, candy, nuts and fruits that he intends to buy, he urges his friends to contribute as early as they can. There is a great deal of work connected with the preparation for the delivery. The bundles have to be wrapped separately, and then they have to be routed for delivery. If the necessary amount is an uncertain quantity until the last minute, the workers will be crowded at the last few days before Christmas.

Santa will likely visit the Rushville little folks in the late afternoon of the day before Christmas. He anxious to deliver the packages as soon as possible. He will greatly appreciate the donation of any vehicles, motor trucks or anything to help in the work.

MANILLA TEAM IS COMING FOR GAME

Local Independents Grab Challenge
and Battle Will Take Place
Next Tuesday Night.

BENEFIT FOR CHURCH CHOIR

The challenge of the Manilla Independent basket-ball team has been accepted by the local Independents and the game will be played here next Tuesday night. Manilla in its challenge offered to take on any in the Sixth district and the Rushville team was quick to grab a game with the would-be champions. The game should prove a drawing card for two reasons. The first is that a real game is promised and the other is that the proceeds will go to the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

The game should be one of the best of the season. Manilla has won from every team it has played and the fans there believe their team the best in this part of the state. The benefit game will decide who's who.

Ed Burk, who was operated on at Sexton's sanitarium for stomach trouble a few weeks ago, has been removed to his home in Greensburg. His early recovery is expected, according to the Greensburg News.

BOLD MOUNTAINEERS THREATENED WILSON

Demand $5,000 On Penalty of Death for Refusal.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 11.—On a charge of sending a letter to Governor Wilson demanding $5,000 in gold, with death the penalty of a refusal, three members of a gang of mountaineers that for a long time has been terrorizing the farmers in the Ramapo mountains in the northern part of New Jersey, have been lodged in the Essex county jail here. The trio were arrested in the wild district known as Ford's mine, near Wharton, by Chief Postal Inspector James T. Cortelyou, Inspectors F. A. Butler and Clinton A. Larabee, and United States Marshal L. G. Beckman. The inspectors posed as Congressman W. E. Tuttle and representatives of the pension bureau, to get near the men they have been trailing for weeks. The mountaineers were heavily armed and there was a sharp fight before they were subdued, several shots being fired.

The prisoners are Warren Dunn, alias Pete; his brother Jacob, alias Nig; and Seeley Davenport, alias Snake. Jacob is understood to have been the writer of the letter to Governor Wilson, and of others to Thomas P. King, an artist with a place at Ledgewood, and P. J. Miesel of Dover, whose death was hastened by the threats in the missive he received. The postal inspectors have secured a partial admission from the men that they had sent the letter to the governor.

Will Hold Up Appointment.

Washington, Dec. 11.—There will be another delay in the appointment of a postmaster at Indianapolis, inasmuch as Joseph B. Kealing, whose indorsement the president is expected to follow, will not come to Washington to make his recommendation until after the holidays. Senator Shively of Indiana stated that he intends to hold up the confirmation of anybody whom the president names, on the ground that the appointment would be made purely for political purposes.

able development of which he knew. Mr. Frew, who is a director of the Bankers Trust company, was not prepared to ascribe this abnormal growth to the influence of J. P. Morgan & Co. He believed it was partly due to the remarkable activity of the officers of the trust company.

Wall Street Speculation.

The committee also took up, for the first time, the question of the effect of Wall street speculation upon interest rates during the usual periods of stringency in the money market. With Mr. Frew still on the stand, the committee brought out the fact that the Corn Exchange bank loaned about the same amount, $11,000,000, to brokers on Nov. 1, as they did on Jan. 1 of this year, when the money market was considerably easier. It was developed, also, that the deposits of out-of-town banks with the Corn Exchange bank were $200,000 greater on Nov. 1, when interest rates in Wall street were 8 per cent, than on June 1, when money was bringing only 2 per cent.

The contention of the investigators seemed to be that Wall street speculators, by running up the interest rates, were able to attract to or at least retain in New York money which was sorely needed by merchants and other commercial enterprises in periods of stringency. Mr. Frew was unwilling to concede that the money lent by the Corn Exchange bank and other big banks in New York in stock exchange collateral, or to stock exchange houses was used for speculative purposes.

Once or twice reference was made by counsel for the committee to the possibility of imposing a limit to the interest charge that should be made for money on call loans, indicating that the committee had it in mind as a possible recommendation.

PROFESSOR TAFT

That is to Be President's Title When His Term Expires.

New York, Dec. 11.—President Taft, will not go to Cincinnati and practice law when he leaves the White House, but has agreed to accept a professorship in the Yale law school. This statement was made authoritatively by a close friend of President Taft, who said he was acquainted with the president's plans.

It was stated that President Taft will accept the Kent professorship of law, which has been unfilled since the death of Edward J. Phelps in 1900. Mr. Phelps was appointed to the professorship in 1881, and although he became minister to Great Britain by appointment of President Cleveland in 1885, he retained it until his death. The professorship covers lectures in both constitutional and international law.

It is understood that President Taft's motive in accepting the Kent professorship is due chiefly to his fondness for Yale university and all it represents. No alumnus of the institution is held in higher esteem by the entire graduate body than President Taft, while the president on his frequent visits to Yale has constantly expressed gratification over his return to his alma mater.

Dangerous Vandalism.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 11.—John Logans, living near Freeport, lost a fodder shredding machine when it was blown up by dynamite. The machine was a self-feeder. Fodder was passing through when suddenly a terrific explosion threw the machine into the air. No one was near at the time. A stick of dynamite had been placed in the fodder.

WEATHER NOT TO BLAME

It's Your Condition.

"This weather simply takes the life right out of me, I can hardly drag one foot after the other," said a run-down, tired-out woman, the other day.

We want to say to every such person in this vicinity, don't blame the weather, it's your condition. You need a strengthening tonic and the very best we know of is Vinol which is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil and tonic iron, for the blood.

A case has just come to our attention from Vineland, N. J., Mrs. Allen T. Godfrey says: "I never fail to say a good word for Vinol, for it restored my strength and vigor after I had been in a badly run-down condition for several months. Every one who is broken in health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson and Company, druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

UNFOLD BILLIONS

COST OF BIG WAR

French Expert Gives Staggering Estimate of General Conflict.

$5,400,000,000 A MONTH.

Jules Roche Declares That Besides Colossal Ruin at Home It Would Paralyze the Entire World For Awhile. Le Roy-Beaulieu and Alfred Noy-march Emphasize Fact.

The discussion of the possibility of a great European war has engaged the attention of diplomats and political leaders throughout the continent and Great Britain and some of the speculations as to cost are staggering. The most striking opinion is that of M. Jules Roche, former French minister of commerce, who made some remarkable calculations on the point.

Taking as a basis the expense incurred by France during the war of 1870, he reckons that, assuming for the sake of example, the six nations of the triple alliance and the triple entente went to war, the cost of maintaining the armies alone would work out at no less than $5,400,000,000 a month without taking into account the other expenses.

Stagnation of War.

"And what would be their internal condition?" he asks. "The belligerent nations would be struck with general paralysis and would see their very means of subsistence disappear. Suspension of work would be forced even on those who were not included in the general mobilization, since whom would there be to work for?"

"To whom would they sell their products? How could they be exchanged or transported? All the large works and factories where the division of labor is completed would have to be shut. Even agriculture would be impossible."

"No more purchases or sales, either the economic or the financial death of labor, an abrupt stoppage of the heart's action in the national organism of all the nations at war, with profound reaction on all others—such would be the consequences of a general conflagration in the present conditions of European civilization."

France Would Suffer Less.

Similar opinions are held by Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, member of the institute and one of France's leading economists. He thinks, however, that in such a crisis France would suffer less than the other great powers, since, being self supporting, she always has at her disposal an immense accumulation of agricultural products of the previous year whereon she could draw for a long period.

She would thus be in far better circumstances than Germany, for instance, which would find the greatest difficulty in obtaining imports, being cut off by the English fleet on the one hand and by Russia on the other.

"But," he adds, "it is after the war that a vanquished nation would have the hardest times, for many years would be necessary to repair the losses and heal the wounds."

Alfred Neymarck, vice president of the French Society of Political Economy, after pointing out the huge magnitude of commercial, industrial and financial interests as well as the enormous expansion in credit and business generally among the six nations which would be engaged, asserts that the consequences of an abrupt cessation of all this activity through a general war would be incalculable in its vastness.

SUNSHINE IN EVERY CELL.

And Glass Doors—Plans For New Joliet (Ill.) Prison.

Following are some of the features of the plans for the new state penitentiary which is to be built at Joliet, Ill., at a cost of $3,500,000:

Sunshine in every cell.

Constant supervision of prisoners from one central point.

Circular cell houses connected with a central dining hall.

Separate heating and ventilating arrangements, assuring the maximum effect for health of inmates.

The plans, drawn after three years' study of prisons in this country and Europe, have been submitted to Governor Deneen. The cell houses are circular structures about 120 feet in diameter. Instead of an open cage of steel, heavy glass will be placed between the bars, so as to make an inclosed room of each cell.

FORE! AMEER PLAYS GOLF.

Natives Put Petitions in the Holes on the New Links.

The ameer of Afghanistan has taken up golf keenly and has had good links laid out in the neighborhood of Kabul.

The natives were much puzzled by the well kept greens; but, recognizing the game as a royal one, they put the holes to a practical purpose. They got into the habit of placing petitions into the holes at night in the hope that they would reach the ameer when he was putting next day.

But his majesty's temper apparently was not improved by the royal game. He resented this attempt to take advantage of his recreations and ordered that all such petitions be burned unread.

EXPECT TO MAKE A POINT OUT OF IT

Becker's Attorneys Pleased at Webber's Statement.

New York, Dec. 11.—Highly pleased are the attorneys for former Police Lieutenant Becker at the statements made by Bridge Webber on his return from Havana. They are busy pouring over the testimony of the trial and picking out conflicting statements and errors to be used in the retrial which they are expecting.

Mr. McIntyre exclaimed forcibly: "It is just what I have been expecting. I knew that those men would recant. I believe now that Schepps and Vallon will have a different story to tell. As for Rose, you cannot expect anything different from him, for he admitted to me on the stand that he had no conscience, and that if he did have one it never troubled him."

Mr. Shay said: "We are going to show that this is the greatest injustice that has ever been done a man since the Dreyfus case. I should not be surprised to see a wholesale prosecution for perjury and perhaps a subornation of perjury."

Webber issued a statement repudiating in many respects the story he told on the witness stand. He said there was no plot to murder Rosenthal. On the contrary, he said, the gunmen went to the Hotel Metropole to frighten the gambler, but two of them got drunk and the fatal shooting resulted.

Supreme Court Will Be Asked For Decision on Meander Line.

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 11.—Persons who have bought meander lands from the state will be forced to relinquish their claims, if a decision by Judge Gallagher in the case of Doney against the Leavell Realty company is sustained by the supreme court. Judge Gallagher ruled that the meander line of the Kankakee river was intended only to mark the sinuosity of the stream. Therefore the owners of border lots hold natural title to all the land between the meander line and the thread of the stream. Appeal may be taken from Judge Gallagher's decision.

Doctors and Politics.

Genuine aristocracy is without false pretense and so is genuine democracy. And there are people, neither aristocrats nor democrats, living plain, simple, wholesome and unaffected lives. But in this country we have been producing, in later years, a sort of persons now numerous enough to be called a class, the type of which, unaffiliated with aristocracy by blood, or with democracy by a sympathy which would be natural and becoming, makes vain pretense of ideals it insists should inspire the polemics of politics. In the late campaign the type of this class found opportunity of expression in horrified protest of calling Prof. Wilson a professor or Dr. Wilson a doctor. They insisted that he should be called governor, as if the title of governor were a higher title, conveying more of honor and rank, than either doctor or professor, or both doctor and professor. They have shown all of the servility of a worship of mere officialism, in their foolish attempts at posing.

Their antics afforded no little amusement while the campaign progressed, but the post-election period brings us something more delicious than clash and clangor could yield. The Chicago Record-Herald, saying once more that "doctor" and "professor" were names applied to the now president elect only by "cheaper and meaner partisans," hoping to raise distrust and suspicion among the hard-headed millions, rejoices that these base varlets have failed in their nefarious attempts to make the people forget that he was a governor, a blazonry to wipe out the old stains of doctor and professor at one stroke. And it rejoices with an even more exceeding great joy, that, in the great triumph of Gov. Wilson in practical politics, his earlier titles of "doctor" and "professor" shine now with a reflected glory. "The election has effectively disposed of the fallacy that to call a candidate 'professor' or 'doctor' is to damn him with faint praise," it says.

This is revelation. Heretofore we have always felt that doctors and professors were to be honored as those having attained title and rank through meritorious effort. And we shall persist in that belief, even if the completed official returns show us that the president elect made so uncreditable a race that, in the face of a disrupted opposition, he could not poll the Bryan vote of four years ago. If such a weakness of his candidacy is disclosed, we would rather attribute it to the weakness of his party than to any college degree, or any educational title he has ever won. In such a pinch, we would call him condemned more as governor, or Democrat, than as professor or doctor. Still, if there are professors or doctors who feel too keenly the onus the Record-Herald would put upon them, they can run for office and get rid of it if they can be elected, no matter how.

If Austria and Russia go to war, there is reason to believe that the territory they are fighting about may be big enough to bury the soldiers who will be killed.

The president-elect has 100,000 offices to distribute, but when will the needs of a growing country be met by providing a job for every applicant?

Police Had Bum Tip on Man Held in Indianapolis.

The police here had a bum tip when they thought John Courtland, alias VanCamp, arrested in Indianapolis for stealing merchandise valued at $125 was wanted here. The first description of the man led the local authorities to believe that he was Simon "Dutch" Hitts, who robbed Chief McAllister of $11 and several articles of clothing and beat it from the city. A picture of Courtland published in an Indianapolis paper proved to the officers here that he was not Hitts.

CAN'T SEE "BIG SMOKES" WEDDING

Motion picture patrons of Indiana will be denied the privilege of witnessing the wedding of Jack Johnson champion heavyweight pugilist, and Miss Lucile Cameron, his nineteen-year-old white bride. This was the decision of the delegates to the convention of the Indiana Motion Picture Exhibitors' League at the Denison Hotel yesterday. Of the 500 exhibitors in the state, 300 are members of this organization. Three of the local motion picture house owners are members. Louis H. Thatcher of the Palace and Walter Easley of the Princess went to Indianapolis today to attend.

A resolution was adopted against accepting tobacco coupons as an entrance fee. A company is putting coupons in packages of cigarettes. When a certain number of coupons are accumulated, the possessor may present them at any picture show and gain admittance, the coupon says, but it will not be so in Indiana.

The exhibitors decided that the "Young Wild West" pictures are crude and demoralizing and refuse to show them.

The Root of Evil

A STITCH IN TIME

Rushville People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

No kidney ailment is unimportant. Don't overlook the slightest backache or urinary irregularity. Nature may be warning you of approaching dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Kidney disease is seldom fatal if treated in time, but neglect may pave the way. Don't neglect a lame or aching back another day. Don't ignore dizzy spells, irregular or discolored urine, headaches, weariness or depression. If you feel you need kidney help begin using the reliable, time-tried remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. For 50 years, Doan's have been found effective. Endorsed by Rushville people.

Mrs. L. B. Leeds, 904 W. Second St., Rushville, Ind., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they are just fine. I was subject to dizzy and nervous spells and my kidneys were weak, causing backache. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family with good results, so I took them. They promptly cured me and I have not been bothered since."

begin again the round of another day. In all the hurrying thousands not one knew or cared a straw whether the man of millions in his silent palace on the drive lived or died.

The house was evidently in hopeless confusion. Servants wandered in every direction without order. Doctor after doctor passed in and out, and the sickening odor of medicines filled the air. A group of newspaper reporters stood at the foot of the grand stairway.

Nan stood shivering at the head of the stairs, pale, disheveled, her dark eyes wide and staring with a new expression of terror in their depths.

"How is he, Nan?" "Worse," she stammered through chattering teeth. "The doctors say he can't possibly live. He has been calling for me for the last hour. I—can't—go!"

"Why?" "I'm afraid!" He took her hand. It was cold and he felt a tremor run through her body at his touch.

"Come, come, Nan, you're not a silly child, I'm ashamed of you. If Cal is calling, go to him at once. You must see him."

Shivering in silence she led Stuart to the door of Bivens' room and fled to her own.

On a magnificent bed of gleaming ebony inlaid with rows of opals, thousands of opals, Stuart found the little shriveled form. The swarthy face was white and drawn, the hard thin lips fallen back from two rows of smooth teeth in pitiful, fevered weakness. The shifting eyes caught sight of Stuart.

"It's awfully good of you to come up here so soon," he began feebly. "I've some plans I want you to carry out for me right away. You see I never thought before of the world as a place where there were so many men and women sick and suffering—thousands and tens and hundreds of thousands. These doctors say that every night in New York alone there are half a million people sick or bonding over the beds of loved ones who are suffering, and two hundred die every day."

He paused for breath, and the black eyes stared at his friend.

"Jim, I can't die! I haven't lived! I've got to get up from here and do some things I've meant to do—all those sick people—I've got to do something for them. I'm going to build palaces for the lame, the halt, the sick, the blind. I'm going to gather the great men of science from the ends of the earth and set them to work to lift this shadow from the world."

"I'll make good. Do you understand? Ten millions each!"

A sudden pain seized and convulsed his frail body and Stuart called the doctors from the next room.

They stood by in helpless sympathy. "Can't you stop this pain?" the financier gasped in anger. "What are you here for? Am I not able to buy enough morphine to stop this hellish agony?"

A DEMAND FOR BETTER ROADS

Organized Effort in This Behalf in Indiana.

CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION

For Three Days Advocates of Good Roads in Indiana Will Talk Over Ways and Means For Securing the Adoption of Improved Methods of Highway Construction and Will Urge a Revision of the State Laws.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 11.—In the draft of a bill completed under the direction of the Indiana Good Roads association to be presented to the Indiana better roads convention, which opened this morning at the German House, a revolution in the road building and supervising system of Indiana is proposed.

The bill follows, in many of its essential details, a measure which was proposed to the last legislature. It provides a state highway board and a state highway commissioner, and for the distribution of state funds to aid road building. The bill also will demand the elimination of grade crossings from the main roads and the collection of an automobile and vehicle tax to obtain funds to carry on road work. The bill will provide that no road shall be taken over by the state except on demand of the county authorities and then only if it is a much-traveled highway. The bill also will provide that the cost of maintaining such a road will be borne half by the state and half by the county. Clarence A. Kenyon, president of the Indiana Good Roads association, and also president of the convention, will offer the bill for consideration.

A Notable Affair.

The convention, which will continue through Friday, promises to be a notable affair. Prominent Indiana good roads advocates are present and several men prominent in the national movement are taking part. A good roads exhibit is one of the interesting features. This exhibit has been installed by M. O. Eldridge of the bureau of roads, department of agriculture.

The convention was called to order by Mr. Kenyon. Governor Marshall, Mayor Shank and Charles W. Fairbanks delivered addresses of welcome. Charles A. Bookwalter, J. M. Lowe of Kansas City, W. D. Ward of Carmel, Ind., and Jesse Taylor of Jamestown, O., spoke this afternoon, and Mr. Eldridge and Paul D. Sargent of Washington will give illustrated road lectures this evening. One of the afternoon speakers was Mrs. Caleb S. Denny, representing the D. A. R., an organization interested in good roads.

ENFORCING LAW

The State Cleaning Up Unsanitary Food Handling Establishments.

Indianapolis, Dec. 11.—Illegal food samples are becoming more numerous at the pure food laboratories of the state board of health, according to the monthly report of H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner. Of ninety-six samples of foods examined sixty-seven were declared illegal. Cream and milk products were responsible for the increase. Thirty-six illegal cream samples were examined and eleven of milk were condemned.

Three temperance beers out of eight examined were found illegal, and four specimens of prepared meats condemned. Three samples of drugs, one of which was linsed oil, were condemned. Eighteen were examined.

Two prosecutions under the weights law were reported; the arrests being practically the first that have figured in department reports. Both were in Vigo county for selling short weights of coal. Out of a total of 1,425 food handling establishments visited, 939 were "good," 413 "fair," thirty-eight "poor," eight "bad," and twenty-seven "excellent." There were thirty-two condemnations of food handling establishments, seven for improper construction and all because they were unsanitary.

Robbed and Fatally Beaten.

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 11.—Lured by fellow countrymen to visit others near Gary, who would give him the latest news from the Balkans, Lizo Korto, a Hammond Macedonian, was attacked on a lonely road, robbed of $1,000, and beaten up so badly that he will die. Bozin Tanos and Louis Mald are sought by the police.

Woman's Clothing Ignited.

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Elmer Quick, aged twenty-five, who lived in Nineveh township, Bartholomew county, was burned to death near her home. She was working at a heating stove, and it is supposed her clothing caught fire. She ran out of her house to the street and there fell, her clothing burned from her body.

A Boy and a Gun.

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 11.—While hunting, Earl Brouzan, aged seventeen, peered into the barrel of his rifle. The trigger was accidentally pulled and Brouzan died with a bullet wound in his temple. Brouzan and two companions were seated on a log resting when Brouzan's gun was accidentally discharged.

HENRY D. CLAYTON

House Manager in the Arch-
bald Impeachment Proceedings.

RUBBER ATROCITIES STILL CONTINUING

No Let Up of Horrid Slavery
In Putumayo District.

London, Dec. 11.—In the house of commons a question was asked as to whether the government is aware that atrocities in the Putumayo rubber district in Peru are continuing and whether it is true that 122 heads of murdered men, women and children were seen in one district last March. The government was urged, if the reports were true, to communicate with the Peruvian government at once.

This matter comes up again through a batch of dispatches from the Colombian consul at Manaoas to the British consul at Iquitos, copies of which the Colombian consul in London handed to the anti-slavery society here. The main object of the dispatches is to establish the right of Colombia to certain portions of the Putumayo territory, but they also contain harrowing revelations of renewed barbarities, such as those mentioned in Sir Roger Casement's report last spring.

The consul at Manaoas expresses surprise at the manner in which the Putumayo investigating commission, which has already returned and one member of which is now in London, conducted its investigations. The consul alleges that the "commission was surrounded by agents and friends of the company into whose conduct it is inquiring, and is thus missing material facts. The persons surrounding the commission had a special interest in keeping the crimes dark."

The consul adds lengthy particulars of tortures with the hatchet and lash, the setting afire of persons whose bodies had been soaked with oil, the traffic in Indian children who had been stolen from their families and sold like donkeys, and many other atrocities. The consul says that although the atrocities straightened up for a while, they were renewed, owing to the diminution of a system which communicates warnings whenever strangers visit the countries.

MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE

Gibson House and Adjoining Buildings
Damaged at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Dec. 11.—A fire that started about 8 o'clock last evening from a gasoline engine in the basement of a new addition to the Gibson House entailed a loss to the hotel and adjoining business structures estimated at a million dollars.

The fire also communicated to the Union Trust building at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets in the same block, and a total loss of that building was threatened.

There was a panic at the Gibson House, although owing to the early hour few if any of the guests had retired for the night. It is stated that all the inmates were saved, none even being injured.

The whole block on Walnut between Fourth and Fifth was burned. It is believed that six scrub women were caught in upper stories of the Union bank building and burned to death. Several others were injured.

THE EUROPEAN CRISIS IS PAST

Resort to War Now Considered
Unbelievable.

AMERICAN BANKERS PLAY SAFE

Successful flotation of a $25,000,000
Loan to Austria Undertaken by Financiers in the United States, Based Upon the Assurance That There is No Likelihood of an European War, Serves to Quiet War's Alarms.

London, Dec. 11.—The announcement of the successful flotation of the $25,000,000 loan to Austria undertaken by American bankers has served further to quiet the recent war alarms, for it was understood that it was made on the assurance that there was no likelihood of a European war.

London insurance underwriters are doing an enormous amount of business covering the risks of war between Russia and Austria on property on the Galicia frontier on the borderland between the two countries, and Lloyds is taking all sorts of bets on the prospects of war.

The general belief in St. Petersburg in well informed circles not swayed by the talk of war among the people, seems to be that the crisis is past and that the resort to war on the part of Austria is unbelievable.

Sir Edward Grey in the house of commons said that the ambassadorial conference which will go on at the same time as the peace conferences will be informal in its nature and will consist of a non-committal discussion on the part of the diplomats to facilitate an exchange of views between the various powers.

It is said that Italy and Austria
Hungary, with a view to safeguarding the independence of Albania, have decided to declare the neutrality of that country.

Greece Will Join Conference.

Constantinople, Dec. 11.—The Turkish peace plenipotentiaries have left for London. It is stated here that Greece will sign the armistice next Friday, the day before the London meeting, in order to be able to participate in the peace conference on equal terms with the other members of the Balkan confederation.

PUSHING THE TRIAL

Senate Disposed to Make Haste in Impeachment Case.

Washington, Dec. 11.—There has been much discussion in the senate of the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald interfering with the holiday recess. It is conceded that unless the trial is concluded before Saturday, Dec. 21, the senate will either have to discontinue taking testimony for the time being or give up the holiday adjournment plan. The outlook has become so serious that conferences were held between senate leaders and Congressman Clayton, manager on the part of the house.
Judge Clayton assured senate leaders he would hasten things as fast as possible, and Senator Bacon, the presiding judge, is showing a disposition to require counsel on both sides to cut out unnecessary interrogatories.

Denouncing Judge Archbald as a "corrupt judge" who connived with "dishonest lawyers" to help the railroads ruin him, the principal complaining witness at the Archbald impeachment trial, William P. Boland of Scranton, Pa., created the first sensation in this remarkable trial. This denunciation was uttered by the witness while looking squarely at Judge Archbald. The object of the denunciation sat apparently as serene and unruffled as he has been throughout the trial, during the entire course of which his composure has been a subject of daily remark.

Throughout his testimony this witness directed a remarkably bitter personal feeling toward Judge Archbald.
"When I discovered that the railroads were using Judge Archbald," he observed at one time. "I wanted to hit up the judge so he could not get away," said Boland. "I knew it was a hard thing to get a case against a federal judge, so I knew I must get admissions from Judge Archbald and his associates."

None Worthy of High Prize.

Christiania, Dec. 11.—The Nobel peace prize will not be awarded this year. This is the first time since the establishment of the Nobel foundation, the first award of which was made in 1901, that the committee of the Norwegian parliament has found no person worthy of the award.

Spinnelle and "New" Gump, convicted

Held as Suspects.

changed, Frank Holloway, an escaped convict, and three companions said by the police to have been connected with bank robberies and train holdups, were arrested.

DEAD BODY NOT THAT OF ECK'S

Information Received at Shelbyville is in Effect That Missing Man is Found.

REPORT OF DEATH UNFOUNDED

Interest in Case Aroused Because Charles Eck is Administrator of His Father's Estate.

Information that Charles Eck, 36 years old, who had been mysteriously missing since the second day of November, has returned to Indianapolis, was given out in this city by Senator Will A. Yarling, one of the attorneys interested in the settlement of the estate of Eck's father, the late George Eck, of this county, says the Shelbyville Democrat. It is said that Eck returned to Indianapolis some time last week and the statement was news to most of his relatives and all his friends in this county.

The statement from Senator Yarling was given out because of a story in effect that the body of a man supposed to be Eck had been found in a trunk at Kokomo. The story of the strange find came over the telephone to the sheriff and the Kokomo authorities who were investigating the case wanted descriptions of Mr. Eck and information that would enable them to get in communication with his wife.

She has been living with their two children at their home on Bluff Ave. in Indianapolis since Mr. Eck's disappearance. It is practically admitted that there was trouble between Mr. Eck and his wife prior to his disappearance, but Senator Yarling said he did not know whether there had been a reconciliation or not.

Mr. Yarling stated that his information regarding the return of Eck came from the latter's brother, Edward Eck. He received a letter from Edward Eck, the letter coming to him just after he reached home from Philadelphia.

Senator Yarling said he felt sure the body found at Kokomo, if one were really found, could not be that of Eck.

Interest in the case of the missing man was increased through the fact that Eck was the administrator of his father's estate, which is valued at $10,000, and it was feared at first he might have misused some of the property that had been entrusted to his care, but it has been demonstrated by an investigation that such is not the case.

Eck formerly lived near St. Paul and is a carpenter contractor. Since his disappearance his wife has filed in Shelby circuit court a claim of $4,960 against the estate of his father on the allegation that the late Mr. Eck had promised her a ten-acre tract of land from his estate for care and attention she had given him while living in his home during the last ten years of his life.

HOWARD STEWART TO RESCUE.

When Francis Coyne shook down the ashes in the coal stove in John Denner's cigar store this morning, he also shook the stove pipe down. The fire was burning high and the smoke filled the room. Efforts to put the pipe back were fruitless, and in order to keep from damaging the room young Coyne called Howard Stewart from the Weeks Fresh Meat & Provision Company and the two carried the red hot stove into the street.

120 ATTEND K OF C TURKEY BANQUET

Indianapolis and Local Knights Make Merry With Toasts on Popular Topics.

SPECIAL MUSIC IS PROVIDED

A hundred and twenty sat down to the ninth annual banquet of the Knights of Columbus at the lodge rooms last evening at eight o'clock. A course turkey dinner was served. The banquet was one of the most enjoyable occasions in the history of the local lodge. Music was furnished by Miss Helen Reardon and Orlando Simms, with piano and violin, and the Knights of Columbus sextet.

Besides the regular program a number of impromptu talks were made. Thomas D. M. Megee, grand knight, of Indianapolis, spoke on the subject, "The Knights of Today." The subject of Tom Cauley's toast was "My Old Town." P. J. Kelleher of Indianapolis talked on "The Joy of Living." John Laughlin spoke on "The Old Story—The Ladies." Short toasts were given by Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall and Will Newbold, and George Todd recited one of Riley's poems very commendably.
